Have you got yours?

Q. HOW MUCH PAPER CAN YOU GET FROM ONE TREE?

Good question but difficult answer. Let us assume that you can get an amount of wood from one tree that's 8ft (h) x 4ft (d) and 4ft (w).

You could produce enough paper to manufacture the following printed items:

- 942 copies of 100 page hard backed book
- 4,384,000 commemorative sized postage stamps
- 460,000 personal cheques
- 1200 copies of National Geographic Magazine
- 2700 copies of an average daily newspaper.

Printing with conscience

Here at Fine Print, all our paper is sourced from sustainable forests and we have a wide range of recycled papers as well as vegetable based inks available.

ARE YOU CHOOSING THE RIGHT PRINT OPTION FOR YOU?

No need to worry...

Do you ever wonder if your job is better printed digital or litho?

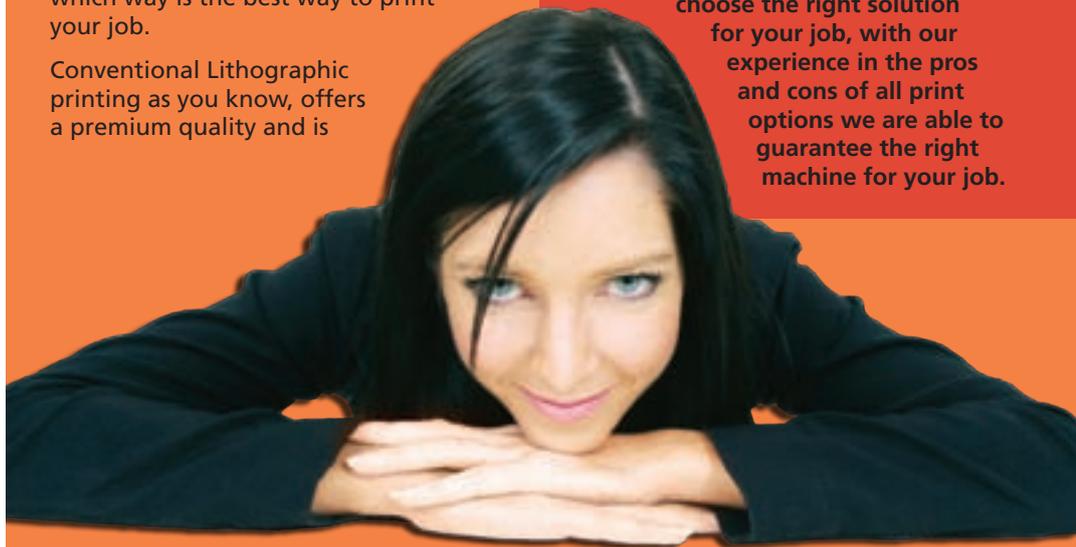

Our team here at Fine Print assess each individual job on its own merits, such as design layout, ink coverage, finish, page numbers and the printed quantity required. All these things determine which way is the best way to print your job.

Conventional Lithographic printing as you know, offers a premium quality and is more cost effective when quantities move towards the thousands.

The digital route, however, has its own niche too - small print runs, personalised print runs and shorter lead times.

Fine Print benefits from being able to choose the right solution for your job, with our experience in the pros and cons of all print options we are able to guarantee the right machine for your job.
